SERIOUS FIRE LOSS.

Half Million Dollars Worth of Property Destroyed.

TWO BRAVE FIREMEN KILLED.

Several Others Seriously Injured by Falling Walls—A Night of Hard Work for Buffalo Firemen—Fire Losses Elsewhere.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Jan. 24.—The second great fire of 1891 visited this city yesterday evening, causing a loss of about $500,000 in property and attended with the loss of two lives and the injury of several others. The dead and injured were members of the fire department.

At 3:55 p. m. flames were discovered in the rear portion of the store occupied by L. Marcus & Company, clothing manufacturers, Nos. 48 and 50 Pearl street, in the fine five story block known as the Clothing Exchange, at the northeast corner of Pearl street and the Terrace. The building was divided into four spacious stores. The corner store was occupied by the owners of the building, Warner Brothers & Company, clothing, Nos. 30, 32 and 34 Pearl street. The adjoining store was occupied by Darling & Scholes, button manufacturers; then came the store of Zingsheim & Harris, manufacturers of boys' and children's clothing. Adjoining this store was the double store of L. Marcus & Company, manufacturers of youths' and boys' clothing.

In an incredibly short time after the fire was discovered the northern half of the stately building was a mass of flames, the entire five stores burning fiercely and illuminating the adjacent streets for blocks around. No railroad trains were allowed to pass the Terrace owing to the many lines of hose lying across the tracks, and soon the entire Terrace was monopolized by the blocked trains. Directly opposite the Warner building on Pearl street is the five-story brick building owned by the Glenn estate and occupied by Glenn's Sons & Company as a crockery ware house; Desbecker, Weill & Company, clothing manufacturers, and Weill Brothers & Company, also manufacturers of clothing.

During the early progress of the fire the Glenn building appeared to be doomed as the fire increased in fury a thousand-fold, and the flames leaped half way across the street. The heat was intense, and a dozen streams, together with the stream from the water tower, were kept at work wetting down the Glenn building. The heat and water broke the windows, and although the building was saved from destruction by the fire, the costly stocks of the clothing manufacturers were badly damaged by water and smoke.

North of the Warner building is the fine five-story block owned by Meyer Geismar and occupied by Brock, Weiner & Geismar, clothing manufacturers. This building caught fire, but by hard work it was saved, although the contents of the building were greatly damaged by water and smoke. Next the windows in the stores occupied by Warner Brothers & Company began to break and huge clouds of smoke rolled therefrom. However, the fire wall was a formidable barrier to the flames, and by hard and good work this part of the structure was saved from the flames. At 10 p. m. the fire was well under control, and from that time on it was slowly but surely quenched.

At 9:30 o'clock, when the fire was at its height, the north wall of the Clothing Exchange had partly fallen in, several of the floors had given way, and the crashing of safes and other heavy articles could be heard above the din raised by the fire engines and the crowd. Shortly afterward a portion of the upper front section of Marcus' store fell to the pavement, and the spectators and firemen fell back a considerable distance to escape the fusillade of brick and flying beams.

Shortly after 11 o'clock, when all thought of further danger by fire or falling walls had apparently passed, and the chief was dispersing what men were not needed, the firemen from Engine 4 were stationed in front of the Marcus building, and several streams were playing upon the ruins. Chief Hornung and Assistant Chief Murphy were standing just behind the pipemen directing the work. Suddenly the wall was seen to totter, and before the men could move to escape the danger it was upon them. Adam Fisher, foreman of Engine 4, was taken out of the ruins dead and Robert Snyder, of the same company, was taken out fatally injured. Tim Krauss, George Whitner and Anthony Keller dragged themselves out. They were taken to the hospital where their wounds were dressed. Snyder died shortly after reaching the hospital. He was 27 years old and leaves a widow and two children.

At an early hour this morning a large portion of the department had been withdrawn from the scene, but a number of engines were kept at work wetting down the smoking ruins.

The Warner building cost about $100,000. The building is 125 feet front on the Terrace and 134 feet on Pearl street, and five stories high. It has been occupied by Warner Brothers & Company and several tenants, most of whom are also in the clothing business, since 1889.

Fire in Milwaukee.

MILWAUKEE, Jan. 24.—Fire, which originated in the dyeing room of Albert Trostel & Son's tannery, on Commerce street, at 7:30 last night, destroyed $30,000 worth of stock and damaged buildings and machinery to the extent of $20,000. Fully insured.

Columbus Club's New Pitcher.

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 24.—Mark Baldwin, the well known base ball pitcher, was signed by the Columbus club yesterday.

SEVERAL CONTESTS.

The Action Taken in Several State Legislatures.

TOPEKA, Kan., Jan. 24.—There was a very exciting discussion in the house of representatives yesterday morning. The trouble was aroused by the presentation of a memorial from the ex-Union soldiers of Topeka, asking that Senator Ingalls be returned to the United States senate. The memorial recited that Senator Ingalls had always been loyal to the old soldiers, and asked that no one be selected to succeed him who would not do as much for them in congress as he would do.

Mr. Lufkar, of Pawnee county, moved that it be placed upon the table. This brought Judge Webb to his feet, who earnestly protested against such an insult to the old soldiers. Mr. Lufkar then changed his motion, and moved that the memorial be referred to a committee on agriculture. This pleased the Alliance members immensely. After numerous other motions, one was made to refer it to a committee of old soldiers to be appointed by the chair. The discussion on the motion, which occupied almost all the morning session was very exciting. Every other member insisted on explaining his vote, and over an hour was thus consumed. Thirteen Alliance members voted with the Republicans and the motion was lost.

Deadlock Ended.

HELENA, Mont., Jan. 24.—The legislative deadlock is practically at an end. The Republican and Democratic caucuses committees reached an agreement last night and only a few minor details remain to be settled. The Democrats will have twenty-seven members, the speakers and all other officers, and a majority of all committees. The Republicans will have twenty-eight members of the house. The majority of one will give them no advantage, as the senate and governor are both Democrats.

Deadlock Unbroken.

PIERRE, S. Dak., Jan. 24.—Balloting in the joint session of the legislature for United States senator was resumed at noon yesterday. One hundred and sixty-eight votes were cast, making 85 necessary for a choice. Moody, Republican, 75; Tripp, Democrat, 25; Harden, Independent, 17; Wardall, Independent, 12. The remainder were among several candidates.

North Dakota's New Senator.

BISMARCK, N. Dak., Jan. 24.—Ex-Congressman H. C. Hansbrough will represent this state in the United States senate for the next six years. On the seventeenth ballot yesterday afternoon he was elected by 67 votes. All but five of the twenty-three Democrats rallied to his support. Senator Pierce takes his defeat coolly and gracefully. He leaves to-day for Washington.

In Illinois.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Jan. 24.—Eight ballots were taken by the joint assembly yesterday for United States senator, the twelfth and last resulting, as have all previous ballots: Palmer, 101; Oglesby, 100; Streeter, 3. Necessary to choice, 103.

SHOT HIS HOST.

The Murderer Then Instantly Killed by the Murdered Man's Son.

NEWPORT, Tenn., Jan. 24.—Capt. E. C. Dunn was shot and killed at his home near this place at an early hour yesterday morning, by W. A. Moore Jr. Peyton Lunn, son of the murdered man, then shot and fatally wounded the murderer.

Young Dunn and Moore had quarreled Thursday and late Thursday night Moore went to Dunn's home, armed with a shotgun, and calling young Dunn out, said he had come to kill him. Capt. Dunn came out and tried to pacify Moore, and asked him to come in and spend the night. Moore did this, but yesterday morning he again became enraged and emptied his shotgun into Capt. Dunn's abdomen, killing him instantly. Peyton Dunn then shot Moore. Both families are very prominent here and the affair has created a good deal of excitement.

Prisoner Pardoned.

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 24.—Governor Campbell has granted a pardon to Henry Froman. Froman was sent up from Hamilton County, on a one year's sentence for cutting to wound, and has only been in the penitentiary since Nov. 7. He attempted to engage a married woman into a flirtation, and was caught at his pranks by her husband. The husband chased him into an alley, and Froman fearing violence pulled out his knife and cut him.

Protest Against the McKinley Bill.

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 24.—The joint resolution adopted in the senate some days ago asking congress to suppress the dressed beef trust and repeal the McKinley bill was called up in the house yesterday. The Republicans moved to strike out that part relating to the McKinley bill, but the motion was tabled and the resolution was adopted as it came from the senate.

Will Play With Pittsburg.

CLEVELAND, Jan. 24.—A special from Erie, Pa., says Louis Bierbaur formerly second baseman of the Athletics and last year with the Brooklyn Players' League club, has signed for next season with the Pittsburg National League club.

Changes His Position.

MILWAUKEE, Jan. 24.—W. L. Gates, for many years business manager of The Sentinel, of this city, has resigned that position and gone to New York where he will take charge of The Review of Reviews, owned by William T. Stead, of The Pall Mall Gazette.

Death of a Prince.

BRUSSELS, Jan. 24.—Prince Baudouin, nephew of King Leopold and heir to the throne of Belgium, is dead. He died in this city at 3 o'clock yesterday morning. The cause of his death is alleged to have been an attack of bronchitis.

HAVE THEY SETTLED.

THE MEN TO RESUME WORK.

Train Dispatcher Scott Will Not Be Re-instated But All the Rest of the Strikers Can Have Their Places Back—The Policy of the Road Explained by General Manager Tucker.

CHICAGO, Jan. 24.—There is every indication that an amicable settlement of the Chicago and Erie railroad strike of conductors and train dispatchers has been reached. The grievance committee of the strikers held a conference with General Manager Tucker yesterday morning and at 1:30 o'clock left for Huntington, Ind., to lay the latter's proposition before the Order of Railway Conductors.

E. E. Clark, chief of the Federation of Railway Conductors, and spokesman of the grievance committee, said before his departure that the situation, to a certain extent, was misunderstood by the strikers. Train Dispatcher Scott they were first led to believe had been discharged conditionally, but they had since learned that the dismissal was unconditional, and that no promise had ever been made by Mr. Tucker to re-employ Scott. Scott's removal was regarded as the first step in a movement to get rid of all the employees who went into the Erie road from the Chicago and Atlantic, and the strike was ordered, not because the men cared for Scott personally, but to determine the policy of the road.

General Manager Tucker's assurance during the conference that there was no intention of discharging the old employees, but that Scott's retirement was necessary on account of his carelessness, was satisfactory to the committee, and it is probable that the men will resume work Monday morning, despite Mr. Tucker's determination not to re-instate Scott.

In Conference at Huntington.

HUNTINGTON, Ind., Jan. 24.—The committee appointed by striking employees of the Chicago and Erie road to confer in Chicago with General Manager Tucker, relative to a possible settlement of the difficulty, has returned and reported that General Manager Tucker refuses to reinstate Dispatcher Scott, but will reinstate all other strikers without prejudice. The committee's report was laid before the various orders, and they are still in session. No prediction can be made as to the outcome, except a determination to stand together by whatever conclusion is reached at the meeting.

Miners' Strike.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Jan. 24.—The Marmet miners at Raymond City are out on a strike. They have secured a stay of proceedings in an ejectment case brought against them by the company, and yesterday received the first remittance of $750 from the miners' defense fund.

The Strike May Be Settled.

EDINBURGH, Jan. 24.—A report which obtains some credence is in circulation in this city that a settlement of the great railway strike has been effected. No particulars, however, are yet obtainable.

FARMERS' ALLIANCE AND LABOR. Resolutions Agreed to Under Their Proposed Confederation.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—The Farmers' Alliance and labor organization delegates in conference here yesterday adopted and agreed upon resolutions as the basis of action under their proposed confederation.

The resolutions call for the abolition of National banks as banks of issue and demand the issuance of legal tender treasury notes in sufficient volume to meet the needs of the business of the country, without damage or especial advantage to any class or calling; favors government loans to the people at 2 per cent interest upon non-perishable products, and also upon real estate; demands free and unlimited coinage of silver, the prohibition of alien ownership of land; favor a graduated income tax; National control and supervision, and if this does not remove existing abuses, then government ownership of the telegraph and the railroads.

At the evening session, Ben. Terrell, of Texas, was elected president and J. W. Hayes, of Pennsylvania, secretary and treasurer of the confederation.

Another Grab for the Standard.

FINDLAY, O., Jan. 24.—The big deal which has been on for the past week between C. C. Harris, the largest individual oil producer in this field, and the Standard Oil company, by which this corporation acquires all the Harris property, was consummated yesterday. The consideration is said to be $200,000, and covers all of Harris' interests in the northwestern Ohio territory, and includes leases, lands, wells, tools and privileges. This purchase gives the Standard the controlling interest in the oil-bearing fields of Ohio.

Haul of Burglars.

CANTON, O., Jan. 24.—Burglars raided this town night before last. Five residences were entered. The most valuable haul was at the residence of ex-County Clerk McGregor, where the thieves secured two gold watches and other articles valued at $300. From the other houses $200 worth of valuables were taken. It is thought that the burglars belong to the same gang which raided Canal Fulton early this week.

Senator Drowned.

SANDUSKY, O., Jan. 25.—Eddie Engles, aged 14 years, the son of John Engles, of Put-in-Bay island, broke through the ice there while skating yesterday and was drowned.

WIRED FROM WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—The Mission Indian commission, provided for by recent act of congress, was yesterday appointed by the secretary of the interior, consisting of A. K. Smiley, of Rhode Island, James B. Moore, of Lapeer, Mich., and Charles C. Painter, of Washington.

Mr. Smiley, who has been designated as chairman by the secretary, has been for a long time interested in Indian affairs, and a member of the Indian commission to supervise the general interests of the Indians. He is well known throughout the country as one of the leading men connected with Indian education and improvements. He is at present in California, where he spends a large portion of each winter.

Mr. Charles C. Painter, who has been named as the disbursing officer of the commission by the secretary is a man who had close association with Mrs. Helen Hunt Jackson, the author of Ramona and who was thoroughly acquainted with the affairs of the Mission Indians. He has been one of the chief actors in the movement that has resulted in the present act of congress under which the commission is appointed. He has also been acting secretary of the Indian Rights' association.

Mr. James B. Moore, third member, is a lawyer of distinction in Michigan, and has been lately thought of as judge of the United States district court there. It has been deemed essential that there should be a lawyer on the commission, as much of the work to be done is of a legal nature, and the commission is organized with a view to have all interests represented. There is no permanent resident of California on the commission.

Proceedings of Congress.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—In the house yesterday, on demand of Mr. Breckinridge, of Arkansas, the journal was read in full and after some debate approved. There were some sharp passages between the speaker and Mr. Cooper, of Indiana, growing out of a point of order by Mr. McKinley on a resolution offered by Mr. Cooper directing the committee investigating the pension bureau to report the resolution to the house. The resolution was finally reported and referred to the committee on rules. The house then went into committee of the whole on the naval appropriation bill, but without action on it adjourned.

The senate passed the entire day in discussing the closure rule. Mr. Cockrell and Mr. Gray addressed the senate in opposition to it, and without action the senate at 6 p. m. adjourned for the day.

Considering Postal Legislation.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—The house committee on postoffices and postroads yesterday referred to sub-committees, the joint resolution providing for a commission to see if increased postoffice facilities are needed in New York city, and two bills introduced by Mr. Taylor, of Illinois, to reduce the charge of the registration of domestic mail matter, and to establish a registered parcel post system.

Talking for Pensions.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—A delegation of the Grand Army of the Republic, consisting of Gen. Veazey, commander-in-chief, Col. Blue, of Kansas, and Col. Emory, of Washington, appeared before the house committee on invalid pensions yesterday in behalf of a bill providing for a service pension for the 250,000 soldiers of the class whose cases were not reached by the act of June last.

No Hope for Senator Hearst.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—A change for the worse occurred in Senator Hearst's condition last night, and his physicians report his condition critical in the extreme. There is now little or no hope of his recovery, although the end may not come for several days.

As to Regulating Immigration.

NEW YORK, Jan. 24.—The petition to congress praying for the regulation of immigration and which is being promulgated by the American Patriotic league, has received so many thousand signatures in this city that it is now proposed to send copies of the petition to the leading cities of the country with the view of making the movement a National one.

The petition prays that no bill be passed in congress on the subject of immigration which does not require an intending emigrant to give the American consul at the port of embarkation notice of his departure, stating that he is not inimical to American institutions, that he can read his native language, that he is physically and mentally sound, that he is not a contract laborer, and that he is not and never has been a criminal or a pauper. It is probable that a bill to the same effect will be introduced into congress before the close of the present session.

Bob Ford in a Shooting Scrape.

WALSBURG, Col., Jan. 24.—Bob Ford, the slayer of Jesse James, and J. D. Harden, a saloonkeeper, engaged in a shooting scrape here Wednesday night. They were so close together that each man was trying to knock the other's gun out of the way. Harden was shot in the shoulder and in the hand, and Ford was hit in the foot, besides being badly burned about the face with powder. The men quarreled over a game of craps. Neither is dangerously injured. Both are under arrest.

Want Their Own Line.

CHICAGO, Jan. 24.—At a meeting of the telegraph committee of the board of trade yesterday afternoon, it was decided to open correspondence with the New York exchanges on the feasibility of establishing a telegraph line from Chicago to New York, the line to be owned and operated solely by members of the respective exchanges of these cities.

HOW'S BUSINESS?

A WEEKLY REVIEW OF TRADE.

Reports from All Leading Trade Centers Show a Moderate but Steady Increase in the Volume of Business Compared With Last Year—Failures of the Past Seven Days.

NEW YORK, Jan. 24.—R. G. Dun & Company's weekly review of trade says: In the reports of this week, a moderate but steady increase in the volume of business compared with last year is the most striking feature. At Chicago a heavy increase in all grain receipts and in cured meats and hides is noted. Trade is healthy and no fears are observed. At Cincinnati the clothing and shoe trades are particularly active; at St. Louis trade is strong in nearly all lines, at Kansas City the failure of a bank has scarcely any effect on business; at Minneapolis the lumber demand is unusually good and the flour output 120,000 barrels, and at St. Paul trade exceeds expectations; at Omaha trade is quiet, and at Milwaukee unseasonable weather checks business, though money is easy and collections very fair.

Cleveland reports money a little closer, but a fair trade; while at Detroit money is easier at 5 per cent., and business conservative in tone. We find improving business at New Orleans; at Louisville trades open well, and the monetary situation improves; at Jacksonville good trade is noted, and at Baltimore manufacturers and jobbers are well ahead of last year. In consequence eastern centers show more activity; at Philadelphia especially in wool, of which prices are stronger, and in sugar for which there is a good demand. Boston notes very firm prices for wool and sales of 3,600,000 pounds, and more activity in woolen goods. At Pittsburg somewhat more activity is seen in iron, though glass is rather dull and some of the factories temporarily closed.

The iron trade is stiffened by the large decrease in production, and while reported consolidations of rail makers have not been completed, there is an obviously general disposition to demand higher prices. The demand for bar does not improve, however, orders for plate are somewhat scarce, and trade in structural iron is only about fair, but in pipes excellent. The coal trade is comparatively quiet. Copper and tin are steady and lead a little weaker. The market for breadstuffs has been stronger.

The business failures occurring throughout the country during the last seven days number for the United States 331 and for Canada 49, or a total of 380, as compared with a total of 411 last week and 403 the week previous to the last. For the corresponding week of last year the figures were 338, representing 295 failures in the United States and 43 in the Dominion of Canada.

The First Spade.

CHICAGO, Jan. 24.—The first earth taken out for the exposition work will be lifted on the lake front next Tuesday. The grounds and buildings committee of the world's fair will, in accordance with a resolution of the directors passed Jan. 21, formally take possession of the Lake Front park. Preliminaries will then be taken to erect upon the Lake Front park and fronting upon Michigan Avenue boulevard a temporary structure for the use of the construction bureau of the world's Columbian exposition.

Can the Railroads Be Controlled?

LINCOLN, Neb., Jan. 24.—A memorial to congress was adopted in the house yesterday by a vote of 86 to 6 asking the Nebraska delegation to demand the immediate foreclosure of the mortgage on the Union Pacific road. Republicans and Democrats who voted for the memorial say that if the government can legally secure possession of this road the experiment of governmental control can be made and the people can know for themselves whether that is the proper way to manage the question.

Abductors Pardoned.

RALEIGH, N. C., Jan. 24.—Charles E. Cross and Samuel C. White, respectively, president and cashier of the State National bank of this city, who fled to Canada in 1888 with $50,000 of the bank's money, and who were subsequently captured, tried, and convicted, and sentenced to seven and five years each respectively, were pardoned Thursday by Governor Fowle. This action of the governor gives general satisfaction.

Snowslide at Quebec.

QUEBEC, Jan. 24.—Four houses in Champlain street, beneath the Citadel cliff, were almost entirely demolished Friday by a snowslide from the Heights of Abraham, not far from the scene of the fatal landslide of Sept. 18. The snow completely covers the three-story buildings in front, and the only access to them is by the rear. About thirty people occupied the houses, and all had a miraculous escape from an awful death.

Kentucky Lady's Shocking Death.

DANVILLE, Ky., Jan. 24.—Mrs. J. B. Brown, a prominent and wealthy widow of Garrard county, was burned to death Thursday night. Her clothing caught fire and in her frantic efforts to extinguish the flames she threw herself on the bed and wrapped the quilts around her person. Instead of extinguishing the flames the fire was communicated to the bed clothing and she was soon burned to death.

A Minister Drowned.

CHARLESTON, S. C., Jan. 24.—Between 2 and 3 o'clock this morning in Rock Hill, Rev. J. S. White, a Presbyterian minister, climbed into a railroad windmill tower and fell into the tank and was drowned. He was suffering from temporary aberration of the mind at the time.

EVENING BULLETIN.

DAILY, EXCEPT SUNDAY.
ROSSER & MCCARTHY,
Proprietors.

SATURDAY, JANUARY 24, 1891.

The Republicans continue their revolutionary tactics in Congress. Some of them refuse to heed the voice of the people.

The Con. Com., in Committee of the Whole yesterday, adopted a clause limiting the rate of taxation in cities of 15,000 and less to $1 on the $100.

W. J. WILMORE, Revenue Agent for Kentucky, has resigned. His resignation will be followed by another lively scramble among Kentucky Republicans and render it more difficult for them to "get together."

INGALLS, the hot-headed, fiery-tongued Senator from Kansas, is opposed to the gag rule, and has notified his Republican brethren in the Senate to that effect. He heard from the people last fall, and is heeding the voice.

The Democrats of Bourbon County are in the field rather early. They will hold a primary election February 14th, to nominate a candidate for Representative in the next Legislature. They ought not have acted so hastily. The Con. Com. may conclude to abolish the Legislature, and set itself up as the law-making power.

The Enquirer calls for a Force bill in the North. It says Speaker Reed called upon the Sergeant-at-Arms the other day to help him out, and in the New Hampshire Legislature the Republican managers called in the police. In Nebraska they had the militia. In Colorado and Wisconsin they tried revolvers. In Montana they used fists. In Connecticut they are still threatening the use of Gatling guns.

A GENTLEMAN from Maysville who recently made a trip to Charleston, W. Va., while there made a careful study of the brick streets in use, and says Maysville at an annual expenditure of $7,000 (as much as she now spends) could in ten years have fine, clean streets. The stuff we now put on our streets works destruction to merchants' stocks and household goods, and every high wind in dry times lifts up and distributes outside the corporate limits dust that costs us about $500.—Republican.

It's throwing money away to continue dumping soft limestone macadam on our streets. This stuff has seen its day for such purposes. Part of the year the people wade through mud, and are blinded with dust the rest of the time.

It would be a big saving in the end if the city would commence this spring and pave the streets with brick. And we would then have streets that would look like streets and not mud roads. The main thoroughfares at least should be paved in this way.

Let the city authorities take the matter in hand. It has been talked about long enough.

In this connection we might add that Charleston gets nearly $20,000 a year from her saloon license, and most of this is expended in putting down brick streets. Huntington is following Charleston's example and gets about $15,000 a year from her saloons, which is expended in improving her streets by paving them with brick.

SINCE the passage of the McKinley bill the protection organs have been giving glowing accounts of the large tin-plate manufacturing that were to be started all over the country, giving employment to large numbers of men, says the Harrisburg Patriot. Lately they have been pointing exultingly to the fact that the manufacture of tin-plate has already begun in Chicago. The Chicago Tribune, however, gives an account of the industry which puts an entirely different face upon the matter. The Tribune says: "We do not see that there is need for our mill-boss contemporaries to waste sympathy on Norton Bros., the tin can makers of Chicago. They took imported Welsh ironplate and caused it to be dipped into pots of melted tin (also imported) by Welsh workmen (recently imported), and when the plates so made were exposed in the windows of a mill-boss organ under the American flag bearing the legend:

THE FIRST SHEET OF
MADE IN CHICAGO
BY NORTON BROS.

They accepted the dubious honors of the misleading statement without a protest. As yet the Norton Bros. have made no tin plate for the market, and it is yet a question whether they will ever be able to make any at lower rates than those now paid. If they do, they frankly avow that they will use imported tin; and while the experiment is going on the American people will be taxed something like $15,000,000 a year to sustain it and others like it."

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

Second in the State.

Mr. Joseph H. Dodson has fitted up a room on the first floor of his warehouse, corner of Second and Wall, with Frisbie's process for casing and re-drying tobacco. The room is partitioned off into three small apartments, which can be heated to a high temperature or filled with steam in a few minutes, as desired. A small upright boiler furnishes all the steam and heat required and at small cost. The apartments are provided with a system of ventilation.

The process is the best and most effective yet invented. With it, tobacco can be placed in any condition desired in a short time. If a crop is delivered in too wet condition, as often happens, it can be dried and recased in a few hours.

The only other house in the State provided with this process is Prague & Matson's, at Covington.

Poor Blind Tom.

"Blind Tom" has gone crazy. He had not far to go, and his managers had more than half a million dollars out of his strange imitative faculty as a pianist.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

How the world is given to lying! Now here's the Marshall (Mo.) papers with notices of Tom performing there and at Kansas City last week, with his usual manner.—Kentuckian-Citizen.

The Winchester Sun comes to the front and informs a benighted public that "Blind Tom is in destitute circumstances and expected to starve to death, after he had made a million dollars for his managers."

The truth of the business is, Tom has been dead for years. He passed in his checks shortly after the great law suit that followed the death of Colonel Bethune.—Lexington Transcript.

The Hustler To-Night.

An exchange says the company engaged in the portrayal of "The Hustler" is accounted one of the greatest gatherings of comedians, dancers, singers and sou-brettes ever employed in farce-comedy. There is John Kernell, who is a comedy in himself. The genial John plays the part of Con McFadden, "The Hustler," a role in the style of Colonel Mulberry Sellers, and is said to have made the hit of his life in the characterization.

Another one of the chief entertainers is Dan Mason, one of the best German dialect comedians before the American public to-day. His talent has a wider range than that of any of his rivals. It embraces the tender pathos and quaint humor of Joe Emmett and the boisterous jollity of Gus Williams.

For the Farmer

D. N. Prewitt, of Boyle County, has engaged about 10,000 lambs at $5 and $6 for May and June delivery.

The Strawberry Hill itemizer of the Fleming Gazette reports five sales of tobacco—three crops at 7 cents, one at 10 and 8 and one at 8.

Mr. Steve Lucas, says the Sayings and Doings, has over a hundred first-class lambs, which he will deliver under contract last year at $5 and $6.

A mare mule in the corral of Timothy Dwyer, of Wyoming, is said to have a piebald colt by a grey broncho stallion. It was foaled last June, and has the short hair and dark brown hide of its dam. A similar case occurred at San Jose, Cal., in 1860.—Danville Advocate.

Sensational Divorce Suit

A special from Vanceburg says: "A big sensation has been created among prominent people by suit being filed in the Lewis Circuit Court by Mrs. D. E. Ward against her husband W. C. Ward, for divorce, alimony and $5,000, which she claims he has of her money. She attached all his property, including a fine jewelry store amounting to about $20,000. The key of the store is now in the hands of the Sheriff. She alleges that her husband has on three different occasions given her a loathsome disease. Mr. Ward is a prominent business man of Vanceburg and is also an old resident. He and his wife both stood high in the social circles of that city."

Frederick D. Losey's Masterpiece.

The masterpiece of the evening was the "Chariot Race," from "Ben Hur," which was preceded by a graphic description of the circus at Antioch, where the race occurred. Into this narrative the reader seemed to throw every nerve and action; and for a time, so vivid was his description, that one could almost imagine himself present in that immense circus, and could hear the shouts and cries of its 100,000 spectators. At the close of this the applause was fairly deafening, so loud and prolonged was it.—Saratoga Union.

Those who have heard Mr. Losey, the distinguished elocutionist and impersonator, say his rendering of the "Chariot Race" is worth the price of admission. Hear him next Monday night. Tickets on sale at Nelson's.

Editor Bulletin:—It is my desire to correct a tissue of falsehoods published in the Aberdeen Gretna Green of Wednesday, the 21st inst, under the caption of "Good Bye, Matt." The intelligent (or would-be, if nature had made no mistake) editor's maudlin ravings goes on at length in regard to my father, Matt Hartman. We wish to say he did not run off with a cent of anybody's money but his own; was not wired to Cincinnati or anywhere else to have been arrested, and so far as favoritism is concerned, if he had no more friends in Aberdeen than the alleged editor of the Gretna Green, he would be in a terrible bad box. In conclusion I will say he is now visiting relatives at Philadelphia, from where we received a letter from him on Wednesday last. Respectfully,

CLEM HARTMAN.

Where Big Boulders Come From.

Wherever the glaciers melted they left an immense amount of "drift"—that is, sand, gravel and stones of all sorts, which had been frozen in the ice when the glaciers were forming.

The stones of this drift are of all sizes. Some are as small as pebbles, others as large as small houses. There is one at Bradford, Mass., which measures 30 feet each way, and weighs 4,500,000 pounds. There is another on a ledge in Vermont which is even larger than that, and which must have been carried by the ice across a valley lying 500 feet below where the stone now is, showing that the ice was 500 feet thick. Great boulders of trap rock extend through Connecticut on a line running to Long Island sound, and as some of the same kind are found in Long Island, the glacier is believed to have crossed the sound, carrying these rocks with it.

An immense statue of Peter the Great, in St. Petersburg, stands on one of these glacier boulders of solid granite, which weighs three million pounds. One of the largest boulders in America is in the Indian village of Mohegan, near Montville, Conn. The Indians call the rock "Shehegan." Its top, which is flat and as large as the floor of a good sized room, is reached by a ladder.

Sometimes these boulders are found perched upon bare ledges of rock, so nicely balanced that, though of great weight, they may be rocked by the hand. They are called "rocking stones." Near the little Connecticut village of Noank, on Long Island sound, there is an immense boulder called by the people there "Jemmy's Pulpit." It was formerly a rocking stone, but the rock has worn away below it and it can no longer be moved.—Teresa C. Crofton in St. Nicholas.

Nassau Hall.

The relation of Princeton university to the history of the United States stands visibly embodied in Nassau hall, the most historic college or university building in America. When first completed it was visited by travelers as the largest building then in the colonies. Within the walls of this now venerable and still stately pile were quartered the troops of contending British and Americans in the Revolutionary war. The continental congress used it for their sittings when driven from Philadelphia, and adjourned in 1783 to attend the college commencement in a body. Its walls still bear the imprints of the cannon balls used in the battle of Princeton, and a portrait of Washington, painted by Peale, and paid for with the money given as an individual gift by the former for the use of the building by his troops, hangs in the same frame once filled by the effigy of George II.

Nine signers of the Declaration of Independence frequented its halls—two were graduates and three were officers of the corporation which controlled it—and its windows blazed with light in a grand illumination when the news of the signing reached the town. Aaron Burr studied in its class rooms, and his body was borne from its walls to the neighboring grave yard.—Professor W. M. Sloane in Harper's.

A Use for Broken Bricks.

In every brick yard and around every new building there accumulates a large quantity of broken bricks for which there is no present use, and which are usually consigned to the dump along with other debris. There is a purpose, however, for which much if not all of this brick waste might be utilized. In Cuba and some of the other Spanish countries ordinary brick dust, made from hard burned and finely powdered bricks, is mixed with common lime and sand, and used as a substitute for hydraulic cement.

An American engineer, whose long residence in Cuba afforded him ample opportunities for testing its merits, says that he found this mixture in all respects superior to the best Rosendale hydraulic cement for culverts, drains, tanks, cisterns and even for roofs. In the course of experiments with this brick dust cement a block of the mixture half an inch in thickness, made without sand, was immersed in water for four months, and upon removal at the end of that time it bore a pressure of fifteen pounds per square inch without crushing or splitting.—Philadelphia Record.

It is said that wood pulp not only produces good printing paper, but also a high class of writing paper, and other superior kinds of paper can be manufactured from it without the addition of rags. The wood from which it is made is the usual white wood from Sweden and Norway or Finland.

New York is a good place—for one who has a specialty. Let him be master of some one thing, even though it be the violin or banjo, and there is a place for him. But he must be thoroughly the master of it. For mediocrity in all lines New York is the best place in America to stay away from.

A Noteworthy Exception.

From the Kimball (S. D.) Graphic: "While the columns of the Graphic are open to any and all unobjectionable advertisements, yet it is quite impossible for us to speak knowingly of the merits of various articles of merchandise advertised. Particularly is this true of patent medicines. But there are exceptions occasionally and a noteworthy exception is the celebrated Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. This now universally known medicine has been advertised in the Graphic for four or five years but not until recently had we any personal knowledge of its wonderful efficacy which has come about through the prevailing influenza and the stubborn cough that has so often attended it. In the writer's family this winter cured a cough that baffled any and all other medicines; and the number of families in Kimball and vicinity, in which this remedy has been used with like effects, attests to its value as a specific for coughs and colds of every nature." OUR NEIGHBORS.

GERMANTOWN.

C. T. Brown, of Huntington, W. Va., was in town Monday night.
J. F. Walton and H. W. Dimmitt were in Cincinnati this week for a few days.
Protracted meeting at the M. E. Church, South, is still in progress. Services every afternoon and evening.
There was quite a large number of commercial tourists in town Monday, and Landlords Stiles and Ridgion were "smiling a smile" in consequence.

Sam Thomas has gone to Missouri, where he may make his future home. Sam carries with him the best wishes of our whole community, as he is an industrious, worthy young man.

WASHINGTON.

Mr. and Mrs. John M. Chambers have gone to Cincinnati for a sojourn of several weeks.
Of all the hellish agencies ever devised by the devil for the undoing of men, rum takes the lead.

Mr. James Hunter and daughter, Mrs. Jefferson, of Bourbon County, were visiting in this neighborhood this week.
Colonel Charles Marshall, of Baltimore, a former member of General Lee's staff, and a man whose opinions and utterances are entitled to great weight and consideration, is a brother of the late Taylor Marshall, who, before the war, was well known in this country, where he stayed much of his time with relatives. Colonel Marshall delivered an eloquent eulogy on his former Chief at a recent banquet in New York in memory of the latter's birthday; and he did not forget to do honor to the memory of General Grant at the same time, of whom he spoke in the highest terms. Colonel Marshall did himself great credit on this occasion, and his utterances will meet with hearty approval by fair-minded men of both sections, for it is recognized that he having been so near to the person of General Lee must reflect to a very great extent the feelings entertained by the great Southern chieftain for the hero of Appomattox. Certainly the latter's "magnanimous" terms to his fallen foe and his brave soldiers, when he himself was flushed with victory, will always enlist for him the admiration and regard of such men as Colonel Marshall, and will cause his name and valor to be remembered as one of the greatest soldiers of his time.

Simpson, the Sockless Congressman. I told 'em on the stump about contemporaneous things.
How the tariff robbed the farmers and the railroads were their kinsmen;
Just how I stood on silver, and—jest 'twixt the boys and me—
How I fit agin the rebel hordes way back in '63,
And the boys got up and hustled, as they never did afore,
And the last I heered of Kelley, he was feelin' mighty sore,
So mother, pack the boxes tight, and fasten down the locks,
And mark 'em "Simpson," Washin', P. S., no socks.

When I get down to Washin' ton and ketch 'em the Speaker says,
Jest watch the opposition, for the fur's agoin' to fly.
I don't know what committee room will clamor for my jeans,
But I s'pose I'll have to be content to start on ways and means,
And Kansas will be mighty proud the mornin' that she learns
That when I rise to take the floor the other house adjourns.
While up into the galleries the eager public flocks
To hear the Kansas Cicerlo, who don't wear socks.

Rev. Mr. Morrison, State Evangelist of the Presbyterian Church, is expected to assist Rev. W. T. Spears in a protracted meeting at Washington soon.

There will be preaching at the Baptist Church to-morrow at 11 a. m. No preaching at 7 p. m., as the pastor will conduct services at the Central Presbyterian Church at that hour.

Services at the M. E. Church to-morrow morning and night. Subject at night, "What Was Lost and Gained by the Fall." Strangers especially invited. All welcome.

Railway News.

The Louisville Times says it is reported that it will be the policy of the L. and N. to operate the K. C. entirely from Louisville.

The Cincinnati Division of the C. and O. has been in operation two years, and in that time not one passenger has been killed or seriously injured on the route.

It is said the Newport News and Mississippi Valley, east of Lexington, is on the market, and that the B. and O. people have been inspecting it with a view of buying.

It is estimated that the Scottish railway strike has cost up to date a million and a quarter dollars. That sum would have been sufficient many times over to pay the increased expenses of the roads resulting from granting the demands of the men for a ten-hour day, says the New York Star.

The Louisville and Nashville management is arranging to run two vestibuled through trains from the Grand Central Depot, Cincinnati, over the K. C. road. The trains will be the handsomest ever run through Kentucky. The cars will be finished in a dark olive color.—Lexington Leader.

GOLD BRICK SWINDLE.
It is Successfully Worked in Allegheny City By a Chicago Crook.

PITTSBURG, Jan. 24.—Charles Arkes, with several aliases, giving his residence as Chicago, worked the "gold brick" swindle on Charles Bauer, a lumber merchant of Allegheny City to the tune of $2,800 Thursday. The "gold brick" sharp was arrested yesterday afternoon and gave up the money and was allowed to go free.

Thursday on the train from Altoona to Pittsburgh, Arkes, who represented himself as a miner to Bauer, produced his solid gold brick with the usual story and offered to sell it for $10,000, but as the train reached Pittsburgh he came down to $2,800. He bored a hole in the brick, and Bauer had the siftings examined at a jewelry store in this city on his arrival. He was told the siftings were gold.

Yesterday morning Bauer mortgaged his property for $2,800 and gave the money to Arkes. Bauer concluded to have the brick itself examined to find out its real value. He then found out he was swindled. He went to Alderman King, a friend of his to whom he told the story and described the swindler. The alderman himself immediately set out to hunt the thief. Luckily he found his man, who was on his way to the depot with a ticket for New York. He arrested him and brought him to Detective Perkins' office where he turned Bauer's money over. As Bauer did not want to prosecute Arkes was allowed to go.

Killed on a Crossing.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—Yesterday an incoming train nearing the city, on the Baltimore and Ohio road, ran over and instantly killed James E. Owens, aged 79, and his wife, Nancy, aged 74. The couple were crossing the track in a milk wagon and, as both had their ears covered for warmth, they failed to hear the train. The engineer says he whistled before reaching the crossing, as usual, and owing to the character of the roadway it was impossible for him to see the wagon until too late. The bodies of both were badly mangled and were brought to the morgue, where they were claimed by friends.

A Farmer Robbed.

COLUMBUS, Ind., Jan. 24.—Jefferson Bailey, a stock buyer and farmer living near Washington, Ind., was robbed of $1,400 yesterday. Three burglars broke into his farm house and secured the money. One of his children was awakened as the thieves were leaving and gave the alarm, but they were successful in escaping.

Lacked Capital.

CINCINNATI, Jan. 24.—S. H. Halsted & Company, stocking manufacturers at Sixth and Main streets, assigned at 1 p. m. to Edgar Stark. The assets are estimated at $15,000 and the liabilities at $20,000. Preferences of $12,000 in chattels to M. K. Boylan were filed some days ago. Cause, lack of capital, slow collections and dull trade.

A Bookkeeper Missing.

MINNEAPOLIS, Jan. 24.—Fred B. Matthews, 35 years of age, head bookkeeper of the commission firm of George B. Kirkbride & Company, has been missing for a week. His accounts appear to be all right, but he had been in ill-health and his friends are apprehensive of some serious misfortune to him.

A Louisiana Murder.

ABELINE, Miss., Jan. 24.—News reached here Thursday of a tragedy which occurred at Gallatin, La., in which a man named Story was instantly killed and City Marshal Stout was mortally injured. The cause of the tragedy is not given. Story was under sentence of death last year at Lexington, Miss., but his friends released him from jail and he made his escape.

Wrecked by Striking a Cow.

COLUMBUS, Ind., Jan. 24.—The north-bound mail train was thrown from the track Thursday morning a few hundred yards south of Franklin, as it was rounding a curve, by running into a cow. Nine of the passengers were injured, none, however, fatally.

May Yet Recover.

NEW YORK, Jan. 24.—Father Malone, of Denver, who fell on the sidewalk and fractured his skull, Thursday night, is doing well at the Roosevelt hospital, and his chances of recovery are considered good.

Failed to Prove Him Guilty.

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 24.—Tom Levi, a race horse owner well known in Indiana, was tried in the United States court on a charge of passing counterfeit money and was acquitted.

New Brazilian Ministry.

RIO JANEIRO, Jan. 24.—A new ministry has been formed, as follows: President—Senhor Uchoa. Minister of interior—Senhor Calavant. Minister of foreign affairs—Senhor Chermont. Minister of finance—Senhor Aararipa. Minister of war—Senhor Frota. Minister of marine—Senhor Vidal. Minister of justice—Senhor Brazil. Minister of public works—Senhor Lucena. The ministry of public instruction and the ministry of posts have been abandoned.

Enlightened Kuhn's Attorney.

TIFFIN, O., Jan. 24.—Della Bird, the mistress of Marvin Kuhns, escaped from the Tiffin jail, where she is held as a witness, and the sheriff found her in conference with Loutitt, the Fort Wayne attorney, who has been appointed to defend Kuhns. She has probably told the defense all the plans of prosecution that she knows.

Ex-State Senator Injured.

CANTON, O., Jan. 24.—Ex-State Senator Snyder fell down a flight of stairs Thursday night and broke his right leg and sustained other serious injuries. The senator was a victim of a similar misfortune a few years ago, caused by a defective street, for which he sued the city obtaining $8,000 damages.

Pioneer Hoosier Editor Dead.

PERU, Ind., Jan. 24.—Augustus J. Banks died Thursday, aged 92. He was one of the first settlers in northern Indiana, a prominent and widely known citizen, and one of the first newspaper publishers in the Wabash valley.

Killing Partridges with a Pole.

"Did you ever hear of catching partridges with a pole?" said a sunbrowned business man to a friend in Broadway. "I never did myself until recently. A party of us were up above Three Rivers, Canada, surveying a tract of wild land, and one day after a long tramp we came to the top of a mountain where we scared up a whole lot of partridges. They were those little black Canadian fellows, you know—smaller than ours—and were so tame that a man could almost catch them with his hands. No one of us had thought it worth while to bring along a gun from the camp.

"Our guide, a 'Canuck,' proved equal to the emergency, however. 'Whistle and watch me catch him,' said he to one of the party. He then went and cut a stout pole about twelve feet long, while the other continued to whistle. The birds cocked their heads first on one side and then on the other in a way to make us laugh, but they stood still and 'faced the music,' while the guide stole up unnoticed and was thus enabled to kill three fine ones with his pole before the rest took to flight." New York Tribune.

How Barbers Make the Man.

It is astonishing what a difference in personal appearance may be effected by a hair cut. A badly shaped head may, by a skillful barber, be made to assume an intellectual cast, and in a very simple way. The intellectual head viewed from the front, is wider at the top than just below the ears, and a clever barber by cutting the hair short over the ears, and gradually lengthening it to the top of the head, may give the greatest dolt an appearance of brains and intellectuality. The real shape of the head is concealed by the hair cut, and 50 per cent. of good looks added to the face. They say the tailor makes the man, and no doubt he helps, but I claim that the barber does his part, and if well trained, his part is by no means contemptible.—Interview in St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Eels Are Very Prolific.

The number of eggs in a medium sized eel at the beginning of the breeding season is stated by eminent authorities on fishes and their allied creatures to be fully 9,000,000—a sum so great as to almost daze the intellect that tries to grapple with it. To the naked eye they are almost invisible. The microscope shows them to be firmly packed together standing on their tiny ends, looking not unlike the covered cells of honeycomb.—St. Louis Republic.
